Jeannette Park Ordered to Be Kept Open Evenings.

Flimsy Excuses of Park Board Officials for "Forgetting" This Park.

"The Evening World's" Effective Protest Against a Public Wrong.

The protest of THE EVENING WORLD against the closing of Jeannette Park in Coenties slip at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. has brought the authorities of the Park Department to a realizing sense of their shortcomings. The promise has been given, both by President Hutchins, of the Park Commission, and Superintendent of Parks Parsons, that Jeannette Park will be thrown open to the public to-night and henceforward every night during the Summer season until 10 o'clock.

When Supt. Parsons was questioned by an EVENING WORLD reporter as to the reason for delay in opening Jeannette Park in the evening he didn't seem to know exactly why

"The truth is," he said, "that Jeannette Park did not get on the list with the other parks, which were opened evenings about hree weeks ago. I think there were some repairs to be made in the fences or something, and we had to put it off for a time." "But the people are all complaining about it, and want to know why it is they cannot enjoy the park in the evening now that the "Oh, well, we'll open it in a few days-

' How soon ?" Yes, you may say that the park will be opened to-night, sure. I will speak to the Chief of the Park Police about it, and he will send a man down there to-night to take charge until 10 o'clock." President Hutchins subsequently said to the reporter:

portance to attend to connected with the Department that I really did not know about leannette Park. Supt. Parsons has just poken to me about it, however, and I have authorized him to make arrangements to ave the park kept open from and after to-

"We had to make some repairs down there, and that is the reason why it was not opened with the rest of the public parks, We have also been very short of policemen. But we will see that everything is made right now.

Anyhow, it seems to me as if the people who are so anxious to sit out in the parks in the evening, might have found plenty of room down in Battery Park, which is open all the time, and that is only a few minutes' walk from Coenties slip." Mr. Hutchins also thought that if any persons were dissatisfied with the way the Park Department was run they ought to come to him with their complaints and not go to the newspapers. It is evident, however, that the people

The people in the vicinity of Coenties slip are over, oyed at the success of The Evenino Woeld's efforts in their behalf. They believe that even 'longshoremen and their families have some rights which the city sulhorities are bound to respect, and when the necessary prodding was to be administered they feel that they come to the right place to get their sharp sticks.

Way Home from the Races.

Simon Stern, Junior member of the clothing firm of it rn & Son, at 636 Broads way, was hornfied this morning to re-ceive news of the tragic death of his partner

Isaac N. Stern.
A despatch from Elizabeth stated that the young man was killed while trying to board a train at Lindon, N. J., last night.

Mr. Stern went to Trenton yesterday morning to see some customers, and started for home yesterday afternoon.
On the way he stopped off at Linden to play the races during the afternoon.

He made a winner on the last race and was delayed so long in cashing his tickets that he lost the regular train and found that he would have to wait some time for another. He had an important engagement in town last evening, and in order to keep it he made a desperate attempt to board an eastward-bound passenger express which did not stop at Linden. He caught a guard rail, but was whirled completely around and thrown beneath the wheels.

His head was cut clean off, and so were both arms, leaving the bleeding trunk on the station platform.

The body was removed to Durning's Morgue in Elizabethport, and will be brought to the city this afternoon.

The dead man lived at 120 East Seventyeixth street.

this city, where he has been engaged in business for nearly afteen years.

At the office of the firm, 6:56 Broadway, the greatest excitement was created by the news of the tragedy. Mr. Edward Stern, a sen of the dead main, received a despatch at 11 o'clock bringing the sad news of his father's horrible death.

The young man paced the floor wringing his hands and crying out in despair over the sad accident.

The young man paced the floor wringing his hands and crying out in despair over the sat accident.

A brother-in-law of the dead man said he had left New York yesterday morning alive and well. He went to Trenton where he sold some goods and then visited New Brunswick.

They received word that he would be home at B o clock last night.

How he came to attend the races is not known, as he never had gone to a race track before in his life. His friends think he must have gone there to please some customer. Stern never drank any liquor.

He was born in Bayarts, and came to this country when two years old, locating in Baltimore, but removing shortly afterwards to kcokuk, Ia., where he remained until about fifteen years ago, when he came to New York. He was a member of the firm of Seitman. May & Co., which failed two years ago, and he when started in business for himself.

Mr. Stern leaves a wirdow and two sons.

He was a member of Earle Lodge, F, and A. M., of Keokuk, Iowa; Solomen Ledge of the wame organization, Mt. Sinai Lodge. I. U. O. B., and several other benevolent orders.

moned to his bedside.

With Father Keegan at the time of his death were, Mrs. Nichols, Mrs. Joseph H. Gardner, three Sisters of Charity and Dr. O'Counell of St. Mary's Church, who administered extreme nuction to the dying man. Among those who visited Father Keegan yesterday, were Hugh McLaughlin, William R. Grace and Congressman Felix Campbell. A letter of condolence was received this morning from Secretary Tracy.

His death was peaceful in the extreme, and the watchers by his bedside scarcely knew when the great change came.

Father keegan was very popular with all classes. As vicar General he was closely identified with the growth of the church on Long Island. He was Chaplain of the St. Patirck's Society for over a quarter of a century. Father keegan was born April 22, 1824, in Rothmore, Kings' County, Ireland, and received his early education at the Edenderry National School.

He came to America when about fourteen years of age, and soon after entered St. John's College, at Fordham.

In 1853 he was appointed an assistant to Rev. David W. Bacon, afterwards Bishop of Portland, After Father Bacon's elevation to the bishopric Father Keegan was appointed rector of the Church of the Assumption, in which position he has since remained. He greatly endeared himself to the flock over which he had enarge by his kindness of heart and strict devotion to duty.

The remains of Father Keegan will be inclosed in a black cloth casket to-day by Undertaker Harper, and will be placed in the parlor of the parish house until Tuesday morning at 0 o'clock, when they will be removed into the church.

The funeral services will take place on the same day, beginning at 10 o'clock. Bishop Loughlin will probably conduct solemn high mass. The Bishop was a frequent visitor at the house during Father Keegan's illness, and expressed great anxiety about him.

Duties as Executioner?

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] AUBURN. May 10. - The hearing in the re urn of a writ of habeas corpus in the case of William Kemmler, the murderer, was held before Judge Underwood this morning. Bourke Cockran and C. S. Hatch appeared for Kemmler, Attorney General Tabor for the

By stipulation, argument was waived, but statement was made by Mr. Cockran of he particular point raised, that the Legislature has not the constitutional power to take from the Sheriff, who is a constitutional ficer, his power to inflict capital punishnent, that having been one of his powers from time immemorial, and to confer thos owers upon an appointive officer.

When the people confer upon an officer by popular suffrage certain duties to perform, "said Lawyer Cockran. "the courts have always held that the power granted by have always held that the power granted by constitutional enactment shall not be taken away. In other words, it cannot be taken from a Sieriff and given to the Agant and Warden of a prison or to any other individual.

Mr. Cockrap stated that it was stipulated that the production of the prisoner in court should be waived, but that in obedience to the writ issued by Judge Corbett the Agent and Warden had filed a return stating that Remmer was held by virtue of a waryant of the Court of Oyer and Termiper of Eric Connty; and that to this return he. on behalf of the prisoner, entered a demurred denying sufficiency of return.

With consent of the Attorney-General, a pro forma order was granted by Judge Underwood, overruling the demurrer and remanding the prisoner, upon the understanding that as appeal should be taken at once to the General Term, where the order now made should be affirmed without argument in June, and an appeal from that decision that when immediately to the Court of Appeals, where the matter might be argued and finally decided some time in June.
